MAKEOVERS and Michelin starred food will be the basis for the Women at One lunch group's charity evening on Thursday.

Spring into Spring will be at Christophe restaurant and proceeds will go to local breast cancer support group the Pink Ladies.

While a two-course meal is served to guests, four volunteers will have their hair transformed by Andre Quintal and his stylists, who will also give demonstrations on styling.

One of his team, Helen Richards, will show how to make the most of the latest wigs available to cancer patients.

'Anyone can come along. It's a group for women and about women and it's always great fun. It's not cliquey at all,' said group coordinator Jill Chadwick.

'Women at One decided that because breast cancer affects women in all areas of life, the Pink Ladies would be a fantastic charity to choose for this year, especially as all the money stays in Guernsey.'

Chef Christophe Vincent said the aim was to give everyone a night of great food and great entertainment.

Both he and Mr Quintal agreed it was important to support the lunch group's chosen charity.

'We are also happy to be able to showcase that we are now able to provide for women who
